Man in jail on attempted murder

Vol 26, No. 5

after double shooting in Quinlan

By Candy Havens

A Quinlan woman remains in serious condition after a shooting on Kirby Street in Quinlan last Thursday night, according to Quinlan Police Chief Marvin Singleton.

Singleton said Rhonda Cotton and Vonda Daughtery, 26, were taken to Citizens General Hospital in Greenville where they were both treated for gunshot wounds.

Cotton was listed in serious condition, and Daughtery was treated for her injuries and later released, according to a hospital spokesman late Monday.

Doyle Samples, 34, of Quinlan was arrested in connection with the shootings, Singleton said.

Samples was charged with two counts of attempted murder and was arraigned before Justice of the Peace John Willeford Singleton said.

Bond was set at $100,000 on each charge, and Samples remains in custody at the Hun County jail.

The chief added that while Samples was in custody in the Quinlan jail Thursday night witnesses observed two unknown men throw a Molotov cocktail through the window of Samples' home, setting the house on fire.

Police said only one shot was fired during the incident with the bullet striking both women. A motive for the shooting is still under investigation.
